Additional Details

Training & Proficiency

Every Longs Peak rosin press comes with a full detailed manual and most users reach full proficiency in using the press within a few hours or less. We'll work with every customer to offer up suggestions and tips on where we've seen the best results so you can get the most out of your press immediately.

Shipping Included

The cost of shipping is included with each Longs Peak press purchase to the lower 48 states, via freight which is fully insured. For shipping to Alaska, Hawaii, and international destinations, please contact us for an accurate quote.

Air Compressor & Accessories

An air compressor is required to use the Longs Peak rosin press. PurePressure recommends an air compressor that can reach at least 145 PSI, has a tank size of 30 gallons or more, and can output at least 2.1 CFM. We also sell top quality air compressors, so contact us to help you find the perfect fit for your operation, even if it isn't from us.
